Jacob is an Associate Attorney in DBL Law's Medical Liability, Health Care, and Litigation & Dispute Resolution practice groups. He represents hospitals, physicians, nurses, and long-term care facilities in medical negligence actions, bringing a practical, solutions-oriented approach to navigating complex legal challenges.

In addition to defending health care professionals and organizations, Jacob advises clients on alternative dispute resolution and provides litigation and business development support to construction companies, individuals, and small and mid-sized businesses throughout the region. His ability to work across industries allows him to deliver thoughtful legal guidance tailored to each client's needs, helping them manage risk, resolve disputes, and move forward with confidence.

Raised in a family devoted to public service, Jacob developed an early appreciation for serving his community. His father is a retired City of Cincinnati police officer, and his mother works with elementary school students with special needs. Following their example, Jacob serves the Greater Cincinnati region through his representation of nonprofit healthcare systems, local businesses, and other organizations that provide essential services and contribute to the community's well-being.

Motivated by the commitment to service instilled by his family, Jacob attended Salmon P. Chase College of Law at Northern Kentucky University, where he graduated magna cum laude. During law school, he was selected for the W. Bruce Lunsford Academy for Law, Business + Technology Honors Program and received the CALI Excellence for the Future Award in Deposition Strategies. Jacob also sat on the Executive Board of the Northern Kentucky Law Review, holding the positions of Senior Editor and Alumni Relations Editor. Prior to law school, he earned a Bachelor of Arts from Ohio University.

A lifelong resident of the Greater Cincinnati area, Jacob graduated from Sycamore High School and has spent most of his life in the community. He currently resides in Northern Kentucky with his wife, Kristen, and their two cats, Lemons and Connor. Outside of his legal practice, Jacob enjoys exploring local restaurants throughout Greater Cincinnati and supporting the region's professional sports teams. During football and baseball season, he can often be found attending Cincinnati Bengals and Cincinnati Reds games with family and friends.
