Rick is a partner in DBL Law's Litigation & Dispute Resolution and Construction practice groups. He represents clients on a wide array of matters, including work in business, construction, engineering, health care, banking, employment, zoning, constitutional, professional malpractice, wrongful death, personal injury and securities. In addition to the litigation aspect, Rick's depth of experience in his construction practice includes drafting and reviewing construction contracts, as well as consulting with regard to insurance requirements for construction projects.

Rick obtained his B.A. from Xavier University in 1967 and a J.D. from Salmon P. Chase College of Law in 1975. At Salmon P. Chase, he was a member of the Order of the Curia and Assistant Editor of the Northern Kentucky Law Journal. He is a member of the Kentucky and Northern Kentucky Bar Associations and sits on the boards of several non-profit organizations. Rick is the author of Civil Practice After Trial in the University of Kentucky Continuing Legal Education series, as well as numerous other publications in the area of construction law.
